

CONNECTICUT – Osteopathic Internship Program

University of Connecticut School of Medicine/UNECOM
263 Farmington Avenue, Farmington, CT 06030-1235
T: 860-679-2562 Fax: 860-579-4613

AOA # 125313

Gregory Czarnecki, DO
Program Director
gczarne@harthosp.org

Hartford Hospital, 80 Seymour Street
PO Box 5037, Hartford, CT 06102-5037

Approved Osteopathic Positions:

8

Beds	1,510
Percent Occupancy	80 – 90%
Admissions	12,234
ER Visits	158,545

Stipends: $50,000

Benefits:

- Health, life, disability, liability, and malpractice insurance
- CME allowance
- Computer system to document resident clinical logs
- Leave time for educational meetings/conferences
- Expense reimbursement for educational meetings/conferences
- Family leave, maternity leave, paternity leave and medical leave
- Professional-membership payment
- Child-care center on site

The Osteopathic Internship Program at UCONN began in 1994 as the only Osteopathic training program in Connecticut. The Internship is fully integrated into the Medicine Residency Programs. It is designed to provide housestaff with a full spectrum of clinical experiences and patient-care responsibilities that will enable them to pursue careers in Primary Care, Internal Medicine subspecialties or non-Internal Medicine pathways.

Our mission is to provide an outstanding education curriculum and foundation in Internal Medicine, OB/GYN, Surgery, Emergency Medicine, and other elective disciplines.

Those entering the Osteopathic Internship Program have the opportunity to continue training in the ACGME Internal Medicine Program as a PGY-2 upon successful completion of the Internship Program.